Dr. Wingett's private practice focuses on providing individual, couple, and family counseling; consultation to educational institutions and business enterprises; and presenting Adlerian training in a variety of venues. He has conducted Adlerian based training in sixteen states, Puerto Rico, two provinces in Canada and five countries in Europe.

Wes has served as a consultant in the areas of early childhood education, time and stress management, domestic violence, drug and alcohol prevention and treatment, health care and wellness, adult-child relationships and training of professional counselors. He has provided management training and personnel consultation to various institutions, agencies and industries. In addition Dr. Wingett is an adjunct faculty member at Wayne State College in Nebraska and Shippensburg University in Pennsylvania where he teaches Adlerian based courses to educators and mental health professionals.

Dr. Wingett's primary interests include applying Adlerian principles to the study of addictions, education, loss and healing, and psycho-educational and therapeutic groups. A student and teacher of Adlerian psychology for more than 35 years, Dr. Wingett has been named a Diplomate in Adlerian Psychology by the North American Society of Adlerian Psychology.
